Welcome, Y'all!

Bennett Plants is a wholesale greenhouse company focused on succulent products for the independent garden center market. We grow and sell all manner of succulent products from small to large. Our most well known product line is called LITEStone Arrangements™. These unique creations consist of beautiful succulent arrangements in lightweight concrete, yes concrete, pottery. The following pages will take you on a tour of our creative process and introduce you to what we believe is the best value in the succulent world.

ABOUT US

We are a family business with over 30 years in horticulture. Like so many in our profession, our journey has included growing annuals, perennials, and all manner of flora. Today, we focus on succulent related products. We believe our focus on succulents gives us a competitive advantage. Producing home grown cuttings and making our own pottery to feature them creates a very unique product line, but that is just part of what we do. Check out the many delightful products we make for you. Each one is made special by our process.

Homegrown Quality

A beautiful, mature plant has to start out as a quality cutting or seed. That is why we grow all of our arrangements on-site and from our own private stock plants. We do this to ensure the variety and standard of our arrangements are second to none for quality and design. Starting with our own “mother” plants, we carefully select cuttings that are rooted and grown out to perfection in our pots. We only use the best quality and varieties available to ensure the best results. We guarantee our methods to produce the longest shelf life of any succulent producer.

While producing our own cuttings ensures better results, it is also the most environmentally responsible method of production. Other succulent growers’ cuttings are often flown in from all over the world - ours simply move a few feet for planting. Better quality means very few issues with pests and disease. Our chemical usage is a fraction of other growers. Fertilizer is kept to a minimum and very often is not a part of the crop cycle at all. It is a lengthy and meticulous process but one that is worthy. The steps we take provide the key ingredients for sustainable production, the highest quality, the longest shelf life possible, and ultimately, the happiest consumer.

Highlights of our process:

- Environmentally responsible
- Guaranteed longer shelf life
- Less chemical usage
- Minimal fertilizer
- Better quality
- Sustainable

THE PLANTS

THE POTTERY

Producing succulents on-site for our arrangements is only half the story. Our LITeStone Pottery™ is also handmade exclusively by our employees. Our proprietary blend creates a lightweight pot with a very unique look, and no two pots are exactly the same. Our concrete blend's natural porosity allows succulent roots to "breathe" leading to an overall healthier growing environment. Rough edges, pits and cracks, and natural color variations are all hallmarks of our design.

Together, our succulent arrangements and lightweight pots combine to create two reasons for a consumer to consider our products. Customers often love the pot as much as the plants and getting both for a reasonable price boosts perceived value. When this combined value is coupled with a responsible handmade production backstory, a very powerful value proposition is created.

Features:

- Durable
- Lightweight
- Pitted and cracked by design
- Adds value to the arrangement
- Aged look right out of the mold
- Does not hold water like plastic
